

Gettin Lucky in Love

Lila Vanderbrooke was in a very dangerous position when she witnessed the murder of her uncle the federal court judge. After hiding in the private bathroom of the judges chambers, she found herself trapped. With the killer between her and the only door she had nowhere to go. So she called her brother Blaine to say goodbye thinking that would be the last time she ever spoke to him. Little did she know that hed call the only man who could possibly save her. Conrad Michaels had been thinking about this woman since the day he met her. Shed invaded his dreams nightly, and he couldnt understand why when all they did was argue. But when Blaine had called and said she needed saving, there was no way he could refuse a chance to help her. As fate would have it, he happened to be in the same building just one floor up. He didnt hesitate to swoop in and rescue her for the danger she was in. As the two go on the run from a cold-blooded killer will they give in to their feeling of desire or will they fight it to the end. Will being in danger have them both getting lucky in love?
